

AN ACCOUNTANCY CASE STUDY

YOUR HAPPINESS AT WORK MATTERS

We recently placed accountant Anna in a great role as a Junior Accountant. She'd been treated poorly by her previous employer and needed support finding a role that could make her happy. Here's Anna's journey to happiness at work.

Anna was treated poorly by her employers in her post graduate role in audit.

She was proactive and picked up the phone and spoke to several recruiters.

Anna realised that a specialist accountancy recruiter would be able to keep a regular eye out for jobs for her.

Anna was offered the job!

We found Anna a vacancy with a small family firm. 'I really enjoyed my first interview and got on well with the owner which cemented it as my first choice.'

Anna was offered a role via another recruiter but she didn't feel it was a good match and knew it wouldn't make her happy,

'Garry gave me lots of background on the business, made sure I got the interview asap and kept in touch while we waited for an offer! I am so excited to start, I think this is the best possible move for me and I can't wait to learn!'

Your happiness at work matters. To make sure you're waking up excited to get to work upload your CV today and we'll support you all the way.